

Process to Run for Section Office

1. The candidate must contact the council Scout executive or the council Scout executive's designee, hereby known as the "approver," for approval to run for section office. It is the responsibility of the lodge key three to let potential candidates know who the approver is and how candidates can contact the approver.
2. Once contacted by the desiring candidate for approval, the approver checks to make sure the desiring candidate is a registered member in good standing in the council and the lodge.
3. If the desiring candidate is a registered member in good standing, the approver sends written confirmation to the section adviser if he/she approves of the candidate for election.
4. All approvals must be received by the section adviser, either electronically or in-person, prior to the election at conclave.
